This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. Item. Luke darwyne of Holbeck had a childe Christeynide the Sayme xxvj^th^ Daye of maye Anno dni 1572, namede Elizabethe.

Item. Nycholis Smythe of Skott Hall,§ had a child Chrysteynid ye xxvij daye of maye A. dni. 1572, named John.

[The above few entries are given in full, to show the form in which the original Register was kept; and the same is done in the case of Marriages and Burials. But it would have involved a useless expenditure of time and money to print the whole of the volume in this manner. The original spelling of surnames and place-names is retained, but the regular formal verbiage is not repeated.—S. M.]

* Alexander Fascet, cleric, was instituted Vicar of Leeds in 1559. He died 7th Feb., 1589–90, and was buried on the 8th. Leeds Par. Reg. See Loidis and Elmete, 1816, pp. 21–23. "Roger Fawcet" has been inserted at the top of the page, and has nothing to do with the Register proper. See Record Series, Yorks. A. A., vi., 61.—S. M.

† Colcotes, now a farm near to Gipton Wood.—S. M.

‡ A scion of the house of Leigh of Middleton, whose place is now apparently lost from the pedigree of that considerable family. The chief at this time was Thomas Legh, Esq., son and heir of Gilbert. He married two wives—first, Anne, daughter of Robert Mauleverer, of Wothersome, Esq. (marriage contract, 38th Henry VIII.), and had issue Thomas, his successor, and Gilbert, who settled at Thorpe-on-the-Hill, and was buried at Rothwell Church, 9th May, 1606. His second wife was Elizabeth, daughter of Nicholas Strelley, of Beaucliffe, in Derbyshire, Esq., by whom he had issue. She survived, and married Mr. Robert Eynes, or Haynes. Thomas's sisters found husbands in Leeds. Frances married Mr. John Cowper, of Leeds, at Rothwell, 8th Nov., 1547; Elizabeth married Mr. Roger Reney; Margaret, George Parker, of Rothwell Haigh; and Mary, Mr. Peter Skelton, of Oswinthorpe, at Rothwell, 27th Sept., 1563. Wilson's MSS.—W.W.

§ Scott Hall, in the township of Potternewton, formerly the residence of the family of Scott, a branch from that of le Scot, or Scot, of Calverley.—S. M.

(1) Thomas de Fenton (who bore arms, Arg. a plain cross between four fleurs-de-lis S.), of Thorpe-on-the-Hill, was the father of Clarice, married to John de la Legh, to whom Sir Gilbert Legh gave the lordship of Middleton, which he had removed from the Creppings. The gift is dated at Middleton, "die Veneris Sept. Pascha, 1332." Their eldest son, Thomas de la Legh, appears at Middleton in 1379, when he is registered as a Franklyn, and for himself and wife pays to the poll-tax 3*s.* 4*d.* In the same year Richard de Fenton and his wife are living in Middleton; they pay only a tax of 4*d.*—W.W.

(1) Will of Wm. Calbecke, of Catbeiston, par. Leeds, yeoman (vol. 19, f. 21), dat. 15 Nov., 1570 pr. 20 March, 1570-1 :—Body to be buried in par. church of Leeds. Debts and funeral expenses to be paid. Rest to be divided (except my fermhold) into three parts—one to the performance of this will, one to Elizabeth my wife, and the other to all my three children, John C., Thomas C., and Elizabeth C., equally divided. To the said Elizabeth my wife, my amblinge mare, 2 old rials of gold. To the poor, 5 quarters of wheat. Residue to my daughter, Elizabeth C. Also to said Elizabeth my wife, my fermhold of Catbeiston for three years after my decease, paying to the landlord the accustomed rent, and also to the said Elizabeth my daughter 10*l.* per year, till the full some of 30*l.* be paid. After the three years the lease to go to the said John C. and Thomas C. till expiry, paying therefore yearly to my said dau. Elizabeth 10*l.*, till her child's portion of 200 marks be maid, towards the advancement of her marriage. My wife Elizabeth to enjoy the third part of the fermhold for life after the three years. She and my son John C., executors. To every one of my three sisters, 10*s.* To the said John C. the occupation of the ferm till his brother Thomas C. attain the age of 16 years, so that he kepe the said Thomas at school till he attain that age. Witnesses—Brian Beiston, gent., William Cassonne, John Killingebecke, William Gaill, John (Bradley?), Thomas Cassone, and other mo. To each of my children a gold ring. To either of my two servants, William Saxton & Arthur Blenkinsoppe, an ewe. To every of my other servants 12*d.* a piece.—S. M.

(2) The t has been made into d in the original—Cadbeiston.

(3) The benefactor. He built the almshouses on Mill Hill (later, Quebec) in 1643. These houses have been removed from Mill Hill, and since rebuilt at Woodhouse. They have not entirely been removed from human ken, like many of the Leeds charities. According to a list of benefactions formerly preserved in the old church, in 1644 Mr. Josias Jenkinson gave a farm in Great Woodhouse, of the yearly rent of £10, to be distributed among the poor at Christmas for ever.—W.W.—Grace Jenkinson, his daughter and coheiress, was a noted "Minister" among the "Friends," commonly called "Quakers." She married William Sykes, of Leeds, from whom descends Sir Tatton Sykes, Bart. Her eldest son is represented by Andrew Montagu, Esq., of Melton and Ingmanthorpe, co. York, and of Papplewick, co. Notts. Her arms—Or, a fess cotised gules, between three boars' heads, erased, and erected Sable—are quartered by Mr. Norcliffe, of Langton. Her will, dated 12th January, 1684-5, was proved at York the 26th May following.—C. B. N.

(4) Bargraunge, near Kirkstall, 1481 (Record Series, vi., 19, 185.) Bargrange, in Heddyngley (Record Series, ii., 237).—S. M.

(5) Christopherson is a well-known Lancashire name. John Christopherson, D.D., was Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, 1553; Dean of Norwich, 1554; Bishop of Chichester, 1557; and died in December, 1558.—C. B. N.

(1) Hunslet Hall.—The once stately residence here had descended from its knightly dignity to the occupation of a colony of traders. See the will of Alice, widow of Sir Thomas Neville, of Liversedge, Kt., in Test. Ebor., iii., 244; made 1st Feb., 1478; prob. 24th May, 1481. She was one of the two daughters of Richard Gascoigne, Esq., of Hunslet, a younger brother of Chief Justice Gascoigne, and coheir of her brother Thomas Gascoigne, S.T.P., Chancellor of the University of Oxford. She married Sir Thomas Neville, of Liversedge, who by a brief nuncupative will made 4th June, 1421, desired to be buried in the church of Birstall, and left everything to Alice his wife; proved May 27th, 1438. His widow, it will be seen, survived him for forty years. On March 8th, 1453–4, Abp. Booth allowed dame Alice Neville, of Hunslet, to have an oratory for a year. She had a similar license, to last for two years, on June 15th, 1456. Robert Neville, her son, married Ellen Molineux, a Lancashire lady. On 27th Oct., 1454, Abp. Booth allowed Robert Neville, Esq., and Ellen his wife, to have an oratory for a year at Liversedge and Hunslet. Sir John Neville, of Liversedge, his son, who married Maud, daughter of Sir Robert Ryther, died in 1502, leaving several children. On 27th April, 1472, an oratory was granted to John Neville of Liversedge, and Matilda his wife. W. W.

(1) Carleton Cross stood in the district now marked by Carleton Hill. The locality was not lost at the close of the last century. Carleton Cross Close was adjoining a close where a stone wind-mill stood: the mill was destroyed by fire on the night of the 30th January, 1791. It would be most probably on the brow of the hill. Carleton Cross Close contained by estimation five acres, and was then used as a garden ground, having in it a good well, lined with stone, and plentifully supplied with water. It was in the occupation of Henry Parkinson, and belonged to the Exors. of Benjamin Glover, surgeon.—W.W.

(1) Will of William Birkhead, of Leeds (vol. 18, f. 222), Dat. 21 Dec., 1569, pr. 30 June, 1570. To Mabble Birkhead, my wyf, for lyf, that my half burgage which I now dwell in, in Withall, the edifice and buildings erected thereupon, and that my tenement in the Viccar layne, with the rights, etc., now in the tenure of John Craven, and that my close called Sykylback, and close nye unto Shipskar bridge. Unto Thomas B., my son, and his hrs., after the decease of Mabbill, my wife, all that said tenement in Viccar lane, close nye Shipskar Bridge, lease in Sikleback, for the term yet to expire (4 score years), to pay to Anthony B., his brother, and Anne B., his sister, £20, equally divided, and for lack of the £20, I give to Anthony the tenement of John Craven and the close near Shipskar Bridge, Anthony paying his sister Anne £10. Goods to be divided into three parts: one to the performance of this will, one to my wife, and the third to Anthony B. and Anne B., my s. and d. And as for Thomas B., my son, I have given him £20 for his part of my holle goods for his child's part. Residue to Anthony and Anne. Mabble, my wife, sole executrix. George Robinson and Richard Cowper, supervisors. Witnesses—George Robinson, Richard Cowper, and William Foster, the wryter.—S. M.

This name of Byrckhead is apparently indigenous and aiming from a local feature now lost. John del Byrkes and his wife were residents in the town in 1379, and their designation is in some way the origin of the above names.—W. W.

(2) Will of William More, of Burley, pr. Leeds, yoman (vol. 18, f. 221), pr. 30 June, 1570. Body to be buried in church yard of Leeds. (1) Richard Blades, of Leds, was taxed 8*s.* for goods, 15 Hen. VIII.

The will of John Blades, of Meadow Lane, par. Leeds, yoman (vol. 19, fo. 87), dated 9 Sept., 1570; pr. 20 Mar., 1570 (? 3 Feb., 1573-4). Debts, &c. Residue into three parts.—One to the performance of this my last will; one to Elizabeth, my wife; the third to my three children, Christopher B., Kateryn B., and Richard B., equally. To James Chyld, my bagge and my dagger. To every of my four godchildren, 6*d.* a peace. To Anne Strickland, dau. of Alexander S., 2*s.* To the said Katheryn B., my d., my pan standing in a fornace. Elizabeth, my wife, and Richard, my son, executors. Witnesses—William Calbecke, Rauffe Blackeborne, Henry Flettcher, William Hebden, and others—viz., Alexander Fascett, of Leeds.—S. M.

(2) For the long survival of a combination of christian and surname, this instance may be referred to. In Feb., 1806, Ralph Sampson had his waggon-warehouse at Woodhouse Bar. He was then one of the great stage-waggon proprietors of the town; he died 30th Aug., 1806. The place may yet be identified by the high archway opposite the alms houses.—8 Feb., 1816, at Barnsley, Mr. John Sampson, master of the Wade Lane Waggon Warehouses, was married to Miss E. Ridsdale, dau. of E. Ridsdale, innkeeper, and proprietor of the stage-waggons from Leeds to Sheffield.—W. W.

I make Alison my wif, George my sonne, and Petir Brame, executours. I make William Marshal supervisor, praying him to be good kynsman to myself, yt. is to say my saule, and my wif and childre. Also I pray you, my lord th'abbot of Cristall, to be good lord to hys pore kynswoman my wif and her childre, for Goddy's sake, as they pray for you and yours.

1517, Aug. 12. Brian Baynes of Leeds. Wife Jennet. Bro. William B. Children. Pr. 16 Sept., 1518. (Reg. Test. ix., 70*b*.)

1536, 3 Sept. William Baynes of Leeds. Bur. in churchyard. Wife Agnes. Son Adam B. Brother John B. Pr. 10 Mar., seq. (Id. xi. 223.)—Testamenta Eboracensia, V., 24, 25.

The name of Adam carries us forward to Adam Baines, the "Parliament-Man for Leeds" (Thoresby's Leeds, ed. Whitaker, 1816, p. 101).

The Abbot of Kirkstall was William Marshall, elected 5 December, A.D. 1509 (Monasticon Anglicanum, ed. Caley, 1846. Vol. V., pp. 528, 529). Was succeeded by John Ripley, 21 July, 1528.

Where is Kendale, near Leeds? Can it be a mistake for Kyddal, in which the Abbey had land, or an annual rent of seven shillings from William son of Thomas de Ledes, formerly Rector of the church of Saxlinghamthorp, in the Diocese of Norwich? (Ibid. v., p. 548.)

There is Kendal in Westmoreland; Kendal in the parish of Great Driffield, E.R.Y.; and Kendal Green in the parish of Silkston, W.R.Y.

(1) This Wood Milne is the very property that the last of the Paytefins, Alexander, son of William Paytefin, of Headingley, quitclaimed to John de Calverley by deed, at Kirkstall 27th May, 1323. He describes it (among others) as Bentley Milne with all its services, and Bentley in Allerton Gledhow, &c., in the aforesaid milne, which is called Heddingley Milne, with all the other appurtenances. The witnesses to his charter are a welcome batch of old Leeds contemporary names—Sir Adam Swillington, William de Beeston, Roger de Leeds, Kts., Laurence de Arthington, Roger his son, Thomas le Wayte of Leeds, Thomas de Newton, Wm. Scott of Newton, Michael Rawdon. The place-name Bentley signifies the lea on the slope of the hill. The mill yet nestles in sad decrepitude at the foot of the hill in Headingley, at the bottom of Wood Lane—an unimproved gulley, sad and painful to travellers. There are a few cottages (in the Bleachground, so called) on the opposite slope, in Allerton Gledhow of old, to-day in the township of Meanwood. These cottages mark the residences of the miller's men. Higher up the slope there are two or three villa residences, and the highway from Leeds passing the ancient hostel yet familiarly known as the Dusty Miller, but now the Beckett's Arms. The district has just passed the last days of its rustic isolation. The hand of the builder is upon it, and it is rapidly coming within the confines of the town.—W. W.

(1) The Browns had been long resident in Chapeltown. Richard Brown, of Allerton, one of the early donors to Kirkstall, gave seven acres of land called Buttes, by gift of William, son of William de Allerton; which said William also gave all the land called Lagbram, near the grange of the monks, with his body. In 1379 there were three families of the name resident in Allerton Gledhow—those of Henry, John, and William Brown, with adults who might be their children.—W.W.

(1) Thoresby writes in his Diary, 12th Nov., 1679:—"At the funeral of my cousin Robert Cloudesley, who lived to a good old age and died happily; he much lamented the death of my dear father, and though weak came to comfort me, and when urged to take gloves refused, saying he should be hearty sorry to live so long in this world as to wear them. Oh, happy men, that thus die in the Lord." Joseph Hunter adds as a note to this passage:—"Thoresby's grandmother was of this family; and the editor of this Diary would be permitted to add that by descent from the Cloudesleys he can claim for himself a distant consanguinity with the Topographer of Leeds." Oliver Heywood records:—"Robert Cloudesley, of Leeds, an ancient Churchman, an active, useful man in his time, died presently after Mr. Thoresby, his good friend, Nov., 1679, aged 84." This entry corrects Heywood's statement as to the age of Cloudesley.—W.W.

(2) There appears to have been kinship between the parties in this faux pas. The Gilbert Leigh appears to have been Gilbert of Skelton, son of Gilbert of Middleton. Elizabeth Leigh, daughter of Gilbert of Middleton, married Mr. Roger Reney, according to Hopkinson's pedigree. Gilbert and Elizabeth were afterwards married at Leeds Parish Church, on the 19th Aug., 1600.—W.W.

(1) The Dycensons were of old standing in Leeds. John Dycenson was one of the two "Hostilers" in the town in 1379, and one of the four tradesmen whose tax reached 12*d*. John Passelew was the other hostiler.—W.W.

(2) The name Brabyner is held to indicate some one of the immigrant Flemish clothworkers who came over to England in the reign of Edward III., to better their fortunes mainly, but certainly not to introduce the cloth trade. Henry Brabaner was resident in Leeds in 1379.—W.W.

(1) The Wheatleys were apparently of Burley. Matilda de Whettelay was resident there in 1379 The Garforths were resident in Hunslet at the same time.—W.W.

(2) We may mark this marriage with much more than a passing interest. Thoresby tells us in 1702 that in drawing the pedigree of Kirk of Cookridge, "mon cher ami," from writings and Kirk's own remarks, "We found that my grandmother Thoresby's mother and his grandfather's (of both his names) father were brother and sister, Gilbert and Frances Kirk, son and daughter of Thomas Kirk of Buslinthorpe, whose elder brother Gilbert was the first of Cookridge, where he purchased the estate now in the possession of my said dear friend, for, dying without issue, he gave his estate there to his nephew Gilbert, pro avus to the present Justice, and gave a legacy of £26 13*s.* 4*d.* to the said Frances, my pro avia, &c."—Diary, i. 403.—W.W.

(1) These Deans were a family of importance in Leeds, and, it is said, were of the stock of Richard Dean, the Parliamentary general and admiral. One of them, William Dean, followed the trade of a dyer in Swinegate. About the year 1600 we find him involved in a lawsuit with John Lindley, of Leathley, Esq., farmer of "the King's mills" in Swinegate, Leeds. Dean, who occupied premises belonging to himself, had erected some new buildings over against the Royal property, and it was alleged that the building, though upon Dean's land, was injurious to the interests of the Crown, inasmuch as it prevented the sun from shining upon the mill-wheels in winter. On these grounds an action was tried, which ended in favour of Dean, whose building was to remain undisturbed.—W. W

(1) The Eastburnes were a family of position in Leeds during the Tudor era. In the 21st Eliz., 1579, William Caldecote and other Leeds men asserted their right of exemption from tolls "throughout England," against the bailiffs of Hull and Beverley. Roland Eastburne afterwards raised the same claim, and in 1594 he headed his townsmen against one Edward More, of Lancaster, and claimed a free passage over Colne Bridge. This opposition to toll the Leeds men pursued very determinedly. The year after, Henry Moxon and Ralph Wade had a trial with Robert Tubbe, deputy of the Countess of Rutland, who demanded tolls for passing and repassing through Rutland town and wapontake. The year after that there was another trial, in which James Mylnes, of Leeds, opposed the Mayor, commonalty, and citizens of London, and John Russell. -W.W.

INTRODUCTION.

THIS is not the place for a detailed history of Parish Registers,[1] but a sketch of the main features of the subject may be acceptable to some of the members of the Thoresby Society.

Although a few Parish Registers are reported (more or less correctly) as commencing prior to 1538, that year is the date of Cromwell's order for their institution. The early volumes are generally copies from temporary notes, and the entries from about 1640 to 1660 are often incomplete and confused. The first fact is shewn by the regularity of the handwriting for certain separate periods, and the second was caused by the neglect and insufficient custody from which the books suffered during part of the troublous period referred to. The restoration of the Monarchy marked also the restoration of these priceless documents to the custody of the clergy, and for a time matters were considerably improved; yet during the reign of William III. it became necessary for Parliament to check the carelessness of some of the clergy, and the Act passed at this time also imposed a tax upon entries in Parish Registers. In 1753, Lord Hardwicke's Marriage Act was passed, and it is still in force. In 1783, a tax was again levied on every entry in Parish Registers, which was repealed in 1794. Rose's Act, 1812 (52 George III., c. 146), and the Registration Act of 1836, are the two chief results of this century's legislation in the matter. The ultimate tendency of these changes has been towards uniformity, certainty of entry, and the safe preservation of the records. During part of the Commonwealth period, marriages were contracted before Justices, after the banns had been published in church, chapel, or market-place.

In 1678, it was enacted, for the benefit of the home woollen trade, that all persons buried should be wrapped in woollen fabrics, and entries certifying compliance with the order are commonly met with in the Registers. At certain periods a considerate clergy entered the dates of birth of such children of Nonconformist parents as were not baptized at the Parish Church, thus enabling us to trace the descent of many families whose pedigrees would have been lost had we possessed only the fragmentary Registers kept by the various Dissenting denominations. Most of the surviving Nonconformist Registers are now collected at Somerset House. The local ones would be of interest to the Thoresby Society, should some London member have opportunity to transcribe them.

By the indulgence of the Vicar and Churchwardens, and by the ever-ready help of the Registrar (Mr. Warren), the Thoresby Society has been enabled to copy a large portion of the Leeds Parish Registers, the permission being granted for all the volumes dating down to 1750. This is, of course, a work which will occupy a considerable time, although much has been done. When completed, it will be an invaluable contribution of material for the history of the city and parish. From the commencement of the Registers down to the present date (1892) there are about 186 volumes, but the first 12 volumes contain the portion which the Society has in hand at present.

A list of these 12 volumes will perhaps be of interest, and will serve to show the progress of the printed work during coming years:—

Either one or two of the earliest volumes have been lost to Leeds. Thoresby used them, and they may possibly be yet found in some old library. There is now little danger of loss of any part of the Registers. Probably no Parish Registers in England are better protected from theft and damp. They are preserved in a large strong-room in the vestry of the Parish Church.

The transcribers have taken great pains to secure accuracy. The transcript has in most portions been collated with the original, and all the printed proofs have been corrected by comparison with the original. Many of the abbreviations have been retained. The only ones which call for explanation are probably the following :—

Jo. for "John."
Xpo. for "Christopher."
p for "per," as Coup for "Couper."
e for "es," as Leede for "Leedes."
ꝰ for "er," as Peꝰ for "Peter."
– for m or n omitted, as Adā for "Adam."
~ for some letters omitted.

If any corroborative evidence were needed to shew the injustice and inconvenience which would have resulted from the late scheme for centralizing Parish Registers in London,[1] this present publication, and similar ones which have appeared of late years, would furnish it. It would have been impossible for the Thoresby Society to copy and print these Registers had the originals been in London. Remaining where they are, a little band of willing workers, living on the spot, are able to devote a certain amount of leisure time to the labour, and they feel their exertions to be abundantly rewarded by the appreciation of the other members of the Society. To have employed a record agent to do the same work in London would have cost scores of pounds.

The first book was transcribed as stated at the end thereof; and the second book has been transcribed as follows:—Baptisms: Messrs. Wheater, Lumb, and Margerison; Marriages: Messrs. Wheater and Lumb; Burials: Messrs. Margerison and Denison. The printed copy has been checked with the original Registers, and the books seen through the press by Messrs. Lumb and Denison.

The laborious work of compiling the Index has been kindly performed by the Rev. Edward Cookson, M.A., Marlesford House, Ipswich, a member of an old Leeds family; and many thanks are due to him therefor.

(1) Is it too much to hope that Parliament will do something to reduce to order the chaotic masses of Bishops' Transcripts? There is no sufficient reason for removing them from their present custody, if better facilities are given to inspect them; but they are almost useless in their present state.

It was intended, and the plan was carried out in the first book, to illustrate the Registers by the Wills, preserved at York, of persons mentioned in the various volumes. But the wills are so numerous that it has been deemed advisable to reserve them for separate publication, and not to delay the Registers on their account. The Society is indebted to Sir Jas. Hannen, Mr. Justice Jeune, and H. A. Hudson, Esq., for the facilities granted in this matter.

To the Rev. C. B. Norcliffe, M.A., of Langton Hall, thanks are due for his supervision of a large portion of this volume.
